

Vario

Projection Screens - Mobile

#Custom

Vario is the original mobile projection screen featuring a modular structure. When we entered the rental & staging market over 40 years ago Vario was our product with which we built our reputation. Precisely manufactured and lasting virtually forever this product has continuously been improved and will keep its place in the international rental & staging industry in future especially for custom sizes or long term set ups. Our Vario screens feature the VarioLock connectors in the frame, which consists in a quick locking mechanism of the plug-in elements. With a swift 90° turn the element connection is locked and a stable connection is established. This connection is recommended for larger projection screens and a so called flying set up above the stage.
